“ The Class of 61 sends our sympathies to Dorothy's family. Many of us lost contact with Dorothy; however, some gal classmates visited with her at the nursing home and were delighted with their visit with her and a daughter. She was one of the quiet ones in our class. It is obvious that she became more outgoing as a mother of her large loving accomplished family. By her picture she became a very attractive woman. Peace to her family and know that she is in the loving hand of our heavenly Father.

“ My grandma truly was an amazing woman. From the time I was a little girl painting her nails with this atrociously bright neon pink and green polka dotted pattern, she always made me feel loved and special. She kept all of my favorite movies on tape and even recorded the times I was on the local television channel for dance recitals and parades. She came to every family gathering that she could, and she brought her best quick witted jokes along with the most delicious crazy cake or rhubarb crisp. She had an incredible ability to make the most mundane parts of the average day feel like you were at the event of the season. She even made potato peeling before supper look exciting. A simple hour chatting over coffee and cake could turn every thought in my mind content. As an adult I spent countless hours learning how to bake, how to crochet, and admiring the garden flowers with her. She taught me how to say “peonies” the Johnson way and how to hold four cats at a time, a feat I can only dream to one day accomplish. She could make me laugh harder than I ever thought a grandma could, and she showed me firsthand that when the going got tough, the tough kept going. I will always remember her for the strong, loving, hilarious, creative, and persevering woman she was. I can only hope to follow in her footsteps.
